

Upskirting!

CNN @CNN · 20m

'Upskirting' – the practice of filming up someone's clothing without their permission – is on its way to becoming a crime in England and Wales

'Upskirting' to be criminalized in England and Wales

What is upskirting?

What would you do if you saw someone upskirting? why?

Is it really that common?

It was a very big failure we had put all our reputation at risk and all we got was a big load of problems it was all about the decisions that the very proud managers had made without thinking enough. All staff members put off making an important decision and were really frightened, it was all we needed to fail badly but by chance all our rivals broke and surprisingly all our misery became an undeniable success.

Hadi Fathi

Word Power!

Catastrophe	A spectacular failure	A remarkable achievement
An avalanche of sth	To go out of business	To be a recipe for disaster
Jeopardize	Standoffish	Procrastinate
A remarkable achievement	Haphazardly	coincidentally

THE HANDCUFF IS QUICKER THAN THE EYE

Slippery Eddie, the disreputable pickpocket, was back at work, and every detective had to be especially sharp-eyed. Eddie's technique was to push a victim roughly toward a confederate who would then slip the man's wallet out of his back pocket while Eddie was mumbling an apology to the confused victim. Within a week the growing of crime wave came to an end when Slippery Eddie coincidentally chose the chief of police for his victim. Although Eddie hates Sing Sing, it's his permanent address now.

Stammer	loath	Incipient
Jostle	Confederate	Inadvertently
Infamous	Vigilant	Dupe

Jamil Smith @JamilSmith · 4h

"It concludes quietly with a simple demonstration of human connection that can raise you up and move you to tears. It's the sort of cinema that feels steeped in the past, completely of the moment and timeless all at once." Peter Travers, on @BealeStreet.